
St. Marys Public Library

Policy Type: Operational Policy

Policy Number: FN-04

Policy Title: Intellectual Freedom

Policy Approval Date: November 2019

Policy Review Date: November 2022

1. Objective

- 1.1 Recognizing that the Library Board has a fundamental responsibility for upholding the principles or, as well as advocating for, intellectual freedom, and this policy ensures the rights of individuals to access information.

2. Policy Statement

- 2.1 This policy outlines the Library Boards stance on Intellectual Freedoms, as it pertains to the Library and its users.

3. Intellectual Freedoms

- 3.1 The Library Board adopts the Canadian Library Associations' Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries;
- 3.2 It is the responsibility of the Library Board, and those who work in the Library to:
 - a. Recognize that all library users have the fundamental right to have access to all expressions of knowledge, creativity and intellectual activity;
 - b. Facilitate access to all expressions of knowledge and intellectual activity, including those which some elements of society may consider to be unconventional, unpopular or unacceptable; and
 - c. Make available all of the Library's public facilities and services to all individuals and groups who need them.
- 3.3 The Library Board directs the Library Chief Executive Officer to ensure that the principles of intellectual freedom are integrated into all organizational policies, procedures and practices.

4. Related Documents

CLA's Statement on Intellectual Freedom, Canadian Library Association 2015

5. History

Date of Latest Board Approval: November 2019

Date(s) of Revision(s): N/A

Date of next scheduled review: November 2022

Appendix A

The Canadian Library Association Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries

The Canadian Library Association recognizes and values the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms <http://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/Const/page-15.html> as the guarantor of the fundamental freedoms in Canada of conscience and religion; of thought, belief, opinion, and expression; of peaceful assembly; and of association.

The Canadian Library Association supports and promotes the universal principles of intellectual freedom as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights <http://www.un.org/en/documents/udhr/index.shtml>, which include the interlocking freedoms to hold opinions and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

In accordance with these principles, the Canadian Library Association affirms that all persons in Canada have a fundamental right, subject only to the Constitution and the law, to have access to the full range of knowledge, imagination, ideas, and opinion, and to express their thoughts publicly. Only the courts may abridge free expression rights in Canada.

The Canadian Library Association affirms further that libraries have a core responsibility to support, defend and promote the universal principles of intellectual freedom and privacy.

The Canadian Library Association holds that libraries are a key institution in Canada for rendering expressive content accessible and affordable to all. Libraries are essential gateways for all persons living in Canada to advance themselves through literacy, lifelong learning, social engagement, and cultural enrichment.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and facilitate access to constitutionally protected expressions of knowledge, imagination, ideas, and opinion, including those which some individuals and groups consider unconventional, unpopular or unacceptable. To this end, in accordance with their mandates and professional values and standards, libraries provide, defend and promote equitable access to the widest possible variety of expressive content and resist calls for censorship and the adoption of systems that deny or restrict access to resources.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and foster free expression and the right to safe and welcoming places and conditions. To this end, libraries make available their public spaces and services to individuals and groups without discrimination.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and defend privacy in the individual's pursuit of expressive content. To this end, libraries protect the identities and activities of library users except when required by the courts to cede them.

Furthermore, in accordance with established library policies, procedures and due process, libraries resist efforts to limit the exercise of these responsibilities while recognizing the right of criticism by individuals and groups.

Library employees, volunteers and employers as well as library governing entities have a core responsibility to uphold the principles of intellectual freedom in the performance of their respective library roles.

*Approved by Executive Council ~ June 27, 1974
Amended November 17, 1983; November 18, 1985; and September 27, 2015*